With more and more companies preferring to finance IT purchases, IBM Global Financing can give your solutions an extra competitive twist. As a Business Partner, you not only offer your customers the most popular financing solutions in the industry for their Information Technology (IT) acquisitions, but you also need quick and easy access to your data.

Complete information is right at your fingertips

To help you meet this challenge, IBM Global Financing has created an Account Management Tool, a Web-based application which provides you with access to key information to help you manage your financing, streamline administration and service your customers. Now all the information you need is as close as your own computer. Time-consuming phone calls, faxes, and overnight packages are eliminated.

Streamlined payments reconciliation

Time-consuming payment reconciliation procedures can be eliminated by using the Account Management Tool. Create and submit remittances online to IBM Global Financing. The cash application cycle time is reduced, thereby allowing greater flexibility to finance purchases with us.

Additional features

The IBM Global Financing Account Management Tool allows you to resolve supplier billing issues quickly through our electronic dispute process. Communicate billing issues directly online and receive electronic notification of dispute status until resolution.

In addition, you control who has access to the Account Management Tool, as well as their type of access, such as view only and payment authorisation.
