

Boulder emergency and medical assistance

Emergency

Should an emergency occur at the Boulder Business Continuity and Resiliency Services Site, call the Security Control Center on extension 333 for assistance. You should be familiar with this number in case a situation arises which requires immediate action, such as a fire or medical accident. This number is also posted on each telephone.

The emergency number is monitored by Security 24 hours a day. A call to this extension will activate the appropriate emergency response from Security who will coordinate all emergency activity with IBM, medical, and/or local law enforcement.
