

Temporary Additional Use Policy

May 16, 2013

IBM authorizes its clients for non-production temporary additional use of up to 90 days for IPLA-licensed Programs acquired through Passport Advantage or Passport Advantage Express that are properly licensed and compliantly used by them, without additional charge for the following five scenarios only.

Covered scenarios:

1. Datacenter migrations
2. System to system [replacement] migrations
3. Trade-up migrations (where Trade-up offerings subject to PA Trade-up terms are acquired)
4. Program evolution and other Program to replacement Program migrations
5. Program version to replacement version (same Program) migrations

For more details, clients should contact their IBM sales representative.